A RICHMOND CO. BACKHOE AND PUMP STAND BESIDE THE HOLE ...which will soon be filled with the building housing a new Lift Station One

Does City need sewer insurance?

City mulls sewer station decision

Belle Glade city commissioners are trying to decide whether to spend another $11,691 to keep the existing Lift Station Number One when the new station, now under construction, goes on the line.

The commission awarded a contract to Richmond Co. in November 1975 to construct the new station and deleted Phase Two, which called for backfilling the old station.

The decision came when the commissioners couldn't decide at the time whether to keep the old station as insurance in case something goes wrong, in spite of that assurances of Briley, Wild Engineering Co. that the extra station wouldn't be needed.

Construction on the new station began recently when Richmond excavated a hole behind the existing station on 14th Street preparatory to building the wet well.

City Manager George Knoblock told the commissioners in a workshop session last Thursday night the time to decide once and for all whether to keep the existing station is drawing closer. He said the city must decide whether to keep it so values needed in that case could be ordered and installed.

Those three values will cost a total of $14,391. Other expenses would include $25,000 in remodeling work. There would also be other relatively minor expenses.

The new station is being built because of massive corrosion of the concrete walls by hydrogen sulfide gas released by bacteria in the sewage which passes through the station.

Should the old station be kept, the walls would be re-faced by a special treatment called gunnitng, which would cover the old walls but reportedly will not strengthen them structurally.

Knoblock said a 49-day extension has been granted Richmond because of difficulty in procuring materials to face the walls of the new station which will prevent the corrosion caused in the existing station by the hydrogen sulfide gas.

Bill Bailey came home

It's official. Bill Bailey has come home. He confirmed this week he has taken up residence at 125 N.W. Ave. F and announced he will definitely be running for the county commission seat being vacated by E. W. "Bud" Weaver of Lake Harbor.

Bailey, former Belle Glade mayor and commissioner, for the few who might have doubts about who he is, announced formally last week he will be seeking Weaver's District 5 seat.

"The main reason I came back," he said Monday, "is that all my friends in the Glades have urged me to come back to run because they believe I'm the most qualified.

"The whole family wanted to come back," he added.

Bailey was on the city commission for 12 consecutive years and served three of those years as mayor. He announced approximately one year ago, however, that he wouldn't seek re-election when his seat became open last September.

Born 44 years ago in Pahokee, Bailey moved to Belle Glade in 1941. He was graduated from Belle Glade High School in 1950 and attended the University of Florida until 1953, when he served with the U.S. Army in Korea.

He was first elected to the city commission in 1963. He has run for Weaver's seat once before, in 1968, losing to Weaver, who was running for re-election to his second term by fewer than 600 votes.

He was a member of the city's Civil Service board from 1959 to 1962 and is a former director of the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce.

Bailey has been actively engaged in the real estate business in the western section of Palm Beach County since 1955, specializing in farmland and acreage. He said Monday his wife, Sue, is now studying real estate and will be taking the examination for her salesperson's license in the near future.

He was president of the Palm Beach County Municipal League in 1971 and 1972 and served as a member of the county's Area Planning Board in 1974-75. In 1970, Bailey was a regional technician for the federal census of Palm Beach and Broward Counties.

Civic activities include president of the Belle Glade Jaycees in 1960 and membership in the Belle Glade Rotary Club and the Belle Glade Elks Lodge #1617.

He is a member and former president of the Glades Republican Club and a member of the Forum Club.

Everglades Federal schedules expansion to Clewiston branch

Everglades Federal Savings and Loan Association received approval last week to open a branch office in Clewiston as a complement to the facilities already open in Belle Glade and Pahokee.

The approval came from the Federal Home Loan Bank Board in Washington, D.C. according to Executive Vice President and Managing Officer Charles B. Trammel Jr. and William B. Rhodes, chairman of the board. The application was filed three months ago.

Everglades Federal, the oldest savings and loan association in Palm Beach County, has been serving the Glades area for over 44 years. The current statement lists assets of more than $49 million.

Plans are being made for the opening of the branch in th near future. Everglades Federal holds an option to purchase a lot in the northwest corner of Sugarland Plaza at the intersection of Berner Road and Sugarland Highway.

The new facility will have approximately 1,250 square feet of office space which will include a drive-in window and a night deposit.

Everglades Federal will offer complete savings and loan services, including all the savings plans - passbook savings and savings certificates which pay the highest rate allowed by law; also Individual Retirement Accounts and the KEOGH Retirement Plan, along with sale of travelers checks and money orders.

Everglades Federal also plans to offer complete loan services on residential and commercial properties.

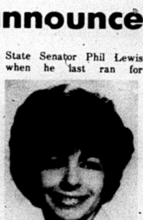

Trammel, a former resident of Clewiston, stressed that Everglades Federal is making this facility available to better serve the savings and loan needs in Hendry and Glades Counties.

Jordan announces, moves

Elizabeth L. "Betty" Jordan, who established residency at 363 W. Main St. in Pahokee Monday according to the Palm Beach County Supervisor of Elections office, announced her candidacy for the County Commission seat being vacated in November by E.W. "Bud" Weaver.

Mrs. Jordan was until two weeks ago the secretary to the Palm Beach County Legislative Delegation and a resident of Palm Beach.

Her husband, John, is a former state legislator and she unsuccessfully opposed State Senator Phil Lewis when he last ran for re-election.

JORDAN

Citing her two years as secretary to the legislative delegaion, Mrs. Jordan said she has "the experience, training and qualifications to be an effective county commissioner."

She said she is running for the District 5 seat because she feels "this district has not had its fair share of representation."

Mrs. Jordan went on to say she believes the county commission is now dealing with a $90 million budget and it should be run as a business.

In salute to America

The Glades celebrates Bicentennial July 4th

Plans to celebrate the nation's 200th Fourth of July in the Glades includes parties in South Bay and Pahokee which Belle Glade's Memorial Day festivities leave city residents free to attend.

The only special activities scheduled for Belle Glade over the holiday is a one-hour special WSWN Radion Station is planning as a salute.

Included in the special will be a recap of the speech given by Dr. Jess Moody in Belle Glade's Bictennial activities and a recording of Belle Glade resident Ruthana Vass singing "God Bless America".

WSWN's Don Garner said other portions of the program will include the late Senator Everett Dirkson in several patriotic recitations, Elvid Presley singing his "American Trilogy" and excerpts from John F. Kennedy's inauguration speech.

Garner said the program is scheduled to begin at 2 p.m.

Meanwhile, South Bay will be celebrating the Fourth at the same time by a gathering at the city's huge welcome sign just north of town on the Hubert Hoover Dike beside US27.

The sign has received wide attention and praise and has probably been seen by more people than any other Bicentennial project around Lake Okeechobee.

Speaking at the gathering, according to Mrs. Esther O'Neal of the South Bay Bicentennial Committee, will be State Senator Phil Lewis. Mrs. O'Neal said refreshments will be served after the ceremony on the side of the highway.

She said the Florida Highway Patrol has agreed to close one northbound lane of traffic during the celebration.

"We'd like to extend an invitation to everyone in the Glades to attend," Mrs. O'Neal said.

The last, but probably largest, celebration in the Glades will be taking place in Pahokee, as the city the north gears up for a celebration scheduled to last all afternoon and into the night.

Dick Korbly, member of the Pahokee Chamber of commerce who has headed up July Fourth activities in the city for the last three years, said the action will begin at 2 p.m. Sunday at the Pahokee Junior-Senior High School practice field.

Korbly said the field day planned will include events like sack races, balloon throws, egg throws, a pancake-flipping race and a spike driving contest.

Korbly said the field day will wind up at about 5 p.m. and the action will move to Pahokee Harbor, getting under way at 6:30 p.m. when the Glades Correctional Institution will present its "I Love America" musical program.

The GCI Choir program will last approximately 50 minutes and the Pahokee Ministerial Association will take front-center stage at about 7:30 p.m.

The Ministerial Association will present a combined choir to sing patriotic and religious songs and the Rev. Ballard Wilson, pastor of First United Methodist Church in Pahokee, will speak on religion in the American heritage.

He said the traditional fireworks display will get underway about 9 p.m. and this promises to be the largest display ever.

"Special thanks go to Milton Carpenter," Korbly said. "It was his idea to let it all hang out."

Carpenter, now a resident of Belle Glade, but formerly a Pahokee resident, was the one who first began the fireworks displays on July Fourth. He has organized support in Belle Glade for this year's display and has received a number of donations from Belle Glade businesses and the Belle Glade Chamber of Commerce.

City court featured in study

A study of the Belle Glade Municipal Court and the Glades Area Palm Beach Circuit Court is being used in a just-released book on court procedures written by staff members of the Boston University Center for Criminal Justice.

Belle Glade's lower courts were being studied, along with lower courts in eight other cities across the nation, by center attornies and used as the basis for the book, Right to Counsel in Criminal Cases: The Mandate of Argersinger v Hamlin.

The 900-page study deals with the broad implications of the U.S. Supreme Court's Argersinger decision in 1972 which extended the right to legal counsel to all persons accused of a crime for which they may be imprisoned.

David Rossman, the staff attorney who did the Belle Glade portion of the research during four days in November 1972, said there were two reasons for picking Belle Glade as part of the study.

(Other cities studied included Birmingham, Ala.; Boston, Mass.; Cleveland, O.; Des Moines, Iowa; Houston, Tex.; Rocky River, O.; Saco, Me. and San Jose, Ca.)

Rossman said the group wanted to pick a court system in Florida because the Argensinger case orginated in Florida.

He said another reason was that the center wanted to study systems varying by community population, those with and without public defenders before the Supreme Court ruling took place and those with and without public defenders after the ruling.

Rossman said the Belle Glade city court was pointed out specifically in several instances in the book.

He said he found differences between the procedures in the city court and the county court, with the county court being more formal in procedures, with Court Court Judge Don Adams informing each defendant of his right to an attorney while Belle Glade Judge Robert Matthews had the announcement made once at the beginning of court and in other areas.

He stressed he didn't see anyone in either court whose rights were trampled on but said the Belle Glade court was unique in the study in several respects.

He said this was the only one of the nine courts which had a part time public defender and prosecutor and it was the only one in which the public defender and the prosecutor swapped hats in other courts. He said both these situations are potential problems.

"On solution we mentioned in the book," Rossman said, "was to have full-time prosecutors and public defenders appointed on a regional basis." He siad public defenders and prosecutors shouldn't be private attorneys depending on the jobs for added incomes.

Rossman said he also received the impression, although he couldn't be sure, that the prosecutor and public defender felt that, "if they got the judge mad, they might not be able to hold onto their jobs," and that there was an atmosphere in the city court which led him to believe the defendants knew they were not to ask for an attorney.

Judge Matthews was not available for comment before press time.

Among the recommendations made by the authors of the new book are: Defendants should not be declared ineligible for a free lawyer simply because they can post bail; only the defendant's salary (and that of the spouse in community property states) and those liquid assets that can be turned quickly into cash should be considered; earning potential should not be taken into account,' and family size should be broadly defined, to include only those who must be legally supported, but also those others who are in fact part of the family.

The authors also express concern that, "if indigency is more broadly defined to reflect the realities of legal costs...these systems will be unable to provide any more than minimal service.

"Legal service," project coordinator Sheldon Krantz said, "to those who cannot afford private lawyers, is properly provided by public defenders who are full-time salaried court employees.

Down the hatch

Belle Glade Librarian Leslie Strickland shows Miss Jackie Bridges how to use the new book drop installed Tuesday at the rear of the library. The new drop, a chute built into the wall about eight feet from the back entrance, replaces the mailbox-like drop which has been standing for years at the rear corner of the library.

CRACKER CRUMBS

BY DEAN JONES

Hoo, Boy! Talk about a tummy-ache!

A lot of people are getting bored with the Bicentennial nad I'll have to admit there's been more that a tad about it in the news, especially coming up to the big national blow-out Sunday.

But there was one more thing I thought was worth mentioning before we forget about it all for another hundred years...always assuming the country lasts that long.

Since birthday cakes are traditional at birthday parties, there have been a few humdingers being prepared the last few days, getting ready for the big bash.

Like the five-story-high chocolate cake being baked by Sara Lee for Philadelphia's Memorial Hall Saturday.

Can you believe a cake 42 feet across at the base and weighing at 49,000 pounds?

Wonder how come I didn't get something along those lines when I was a kid? I guess I always did come out second best on birthday cakes when the competition was the U. of S.

There was a time when I'd have gladly jumped off something higher into the top deck of a cake like that and eaten my way out. Matter of fact, I imagine there are a lot of kids around today who wouldn't mind trying.

Just think of it! With a cake that size, the frosting must be a couple of feet thick anyway. If it were slanted instead of squared off, you could probably use it for a ski jump.

The Sara Lee Memorial Cake (as it might go down in history has) isn't the only oddball on the block. There's going to be a 12x18 foot patchwork quilt cake in Brownsville, Tex. made up of 200 sheet cakes decorated with Bicentennial scenes and a red, white and blue cake to be served at the National Archives on July Fourth as the Army Band plays "Happy Birthday". What else?

How sweet it is! Oh, well, maybe I can persuade Sara Lee to do something for my own 200th.

Dunno what good it'll do though. I won't be around to sample it. Maybe it can be dedicated to Sweet Tooth Anonymous. Or is that Sweet Teeth Anonymous?

People like to read about themselves. That's what the lady said.

"The lady" is an astrologer trying to sell her wares to any weekly who happens to be interested and she made the point that even though astrologers' columns in newspapers aren't very accurate, they're personal and that's why people read them.

Course, she claims to be more accurate. Can't imagine why that seems to be important.

Personally, I believe that if horoscopes really worked, nobody in his right mind would read 'em. Can you imagine picking up the newspaper and reading something like:

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) After 56 years of causing no trouble whatsoever, your tonsils have been acting up recently. Although the doctor assures you it is a simple operation, especially since you love ice cream, you will die on the operating table. Today is a good day for making out your will.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Today is a poor day for transacting pending business but since you don't believe in horoscopes, you're going to go ahead and buy that stock you've been considering for some time. Enjoy yourself tomorrow when the New York Stock Market experiences a crash that makes 1929 look like a bull market and you lose your life's savings.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) This may be the age of Aquarius but you won't really be able to appreicate it as you get running sores, your wife runs off with another man, your children are exterminated like lice by a ruptured chlorine gas leak in their neighborhood, and your find out your mistress has contracted leprosy and you've caught it from her. There will be one saving grace, however. You won't spread the leprosy any further because you'll be ostracized by the entire world when the news get out about that little pecadillo you were involved in as a kid.

Sounds like real fun reading, doesn't it.

Pot Likker

by R·D· Santee

I recently received a letter that makes a little sense. I felt impelled to publish it and my equally sensible reply.

It began.

"Dear Sir,

A recent poll shows that a majority of the population has little confidence in our federal government. Granted, things are in a mess in Washington but throughout our hsitory we have always been in a state of utter chaos. The only time we seem to have unanimity in our political forum is during time of war. At least this was true up until the most recent foray in S.E. Asia.

It is understandable why Congress has fallen from grace in the view of the American public. The only consistency that august body has exhibited in the past ten years has been in the inconsistency of it's purpose.

For instance, a Democratic Congress forced a Republican president out of office for covering up a rash of misdemeanor offenses initiated by his staff.

However, the Democratic Congress did nothing to a Democratic President who fabricated an attack on our Navy in the Gulf of Tonkin to escalate an unpopular war. No one died or was maimed by the Republican President's actions. Lord knows how many Americans suffered such a fate as a result of the Democratic President's move. Yet, when the truth was out, nothing was done. I guess party politics are stronger than national interest.

During election times, few candidates to Congress have alluded to the need for a balanced budget. However, once they're in office they forget the budget and spend all the money they can lay their hands on and then some.

They, as an outside task force, investigate the intelligence community, the Executive branch and nearly every other facet of the government. Yet, when they themselves are in need of investigation they cry "foul" and say they'll investigate themselves without outside interference. Something like a psychoanalyst with a superiority complex analizing himself.

There is little doubt the American public has not faith in the system. And, I feel, this lack of faith is warranted.

Yours truly,
Buford C. Curmudgeon"

I replied.

"Dear Buford,

Why in blazes are you writing this letter to me? I am not your Congressman. If I were, I too would do all the things you addressed yourself to. Including the things you left out like drinking too much and chasing women all over Capitol Hill. The job opens opportunities to the larceny inherent in everyone. An honest man will not make it in Washington. There are too many temptations up there. Even the best intentioned candidate will compromise his ideals to gain a seat in Congress.

I read your letter to a Congressman and his reply was 'Lord knows we're not perfect'. Then he added, 'But the system works'.

I agree with him. They are not perfect. And the system does work. The only mind boggeling question I have is what system are we talking about?

You can trust your government, now and in the future, to completely foul up an already unbearable situation. But isn't it wonderful to be able to raise your voice in the storm and scream your objections?

And likewise, Washington feels it equally as wonderful not to have to pay any attention to it.

Sincerely,
R.D. Santee"

Letters to the editor

Dear Mr. Jones:

When I read Karens Korner in the Belle Glade Herald this week, I was stunned by the way she put down the Jaycees and their barbeque. This barbecue was for the softball tournaments, and there were people from all over the glades at this tournament. The Jaycees spent alot of time on this barbeque. The Jaycees are out to do something for this sorry town they should not be criticized. Karen has never written anything nice about anyone except Wallis Pharmacy's softball team.

Furthermore, this criticism is not good for the Belle Glade Herald, as you will well find out. If she cannot write anything good in the newspaper about someone, she should hang it up.

From what I hear and what I have experienced, you do not read what she puts in the newspaper just proofread for mistakes. Well that is your mistake. If you don't start making a limit on what is put in the newspaper, sooner or later, someone will stop the publication of the Belle Glade Herald, I guarantee it.

Sincerely,
Vickie Woods

P.S. Karen knows who put on this barbeque and who made the food for it. I believe she owes everyone of them an appology for this uncalled for publication.

Dear Mr. Jones:

As I was reading Karen's Korner today, I was shocked at her curt remark about the Jaycees Bar be que, and the cole slaw which was served.

The comment that, "in deed, now I know what tasteless means after a bite of that," shows not only poor taste, but a lack of journalistic ability. Insulting citizens of the Glades is how the Herald has received its bad name. I now know why people laugh when they pick up "The Belle Glade Herald."

I feel that an apology is due to Mrs. Mary Barnwell and Mrs. Sue Vulgamore. They spent several hours of their time in preparing that cole slaw, and should be commended rather than criticized.

Sincerely,
Dorothy G. Shiver

P.S. It seems strange to me that she has never critized Wallis Pharmacy's womens softball team.

EDITOR'S NOTE: We aren't aware that Miss Hansford has criticized any team in any league in any of her columns.

To Drug or Not to Drug What is Your Question?

by j.p. feld

QUESTION: Dear Rev. Feld What is your opinion on the question, "Is Marijuana seriously damaging to human health"? M.C.C.

ANSWER: Dear M.C.C. Is alcohol damaging to the liver? Is glue damaging to the brain? In my opinion (based on having been there & seen first hand), Marijuana is just as seriously harmful to the user. It dulls the senses, robs the mind of sound judgement, and errods the user of his or her will to be productive and resourceful in this present life. Everything becomes a dream, semiconscious state of existence - not living just existing. Studies are under way to find out if Marijuana is harmful. But I say talk to those who have experienced the effects of this subtil (crafty) drug and see what they have to report.

200 years of freedom--will there be 300?

Happy birthday, America. Happy Fourth of July, and may you survive for at least another 200 years.

There's been some doubt expressed about that...since right from the early days when Tom Jefferson opined there would probably have to be a revolution scheduled about every 20 years to maintain freedom.

We're 180 years late for the first one of those revolutions, unless you count one humdinger of a family brawl about halfway along the way, and it's just as well. We've had other problems but we probably couldn't have stood a brawl like that every couple of decades.

So we can really gear up for a birthday bash Sunday, in spite of a few people who seem to be saying July Fourth isn't really the birthday and 1776 wasn't really the birthyear anyway.

They brought some fairly reasonable arguments to bear there...such as 1760 might have been the real birth of the American Revolution (even John Adams said that); or April 19, 1775 when those 77 minutemen squared off against 700 of George III's best light infantrymen at Lexington; or even May 1790 when Rhode Island became the 13th state to ratify the then-new U.S. Constitution. (Rhode Island always was independent. She didn't ratify until Congress was considering treating her like a foreign country...and then only by a narrow margin.)

But July 4, 1776 was the best choice for a birthday. It's best because that's when 56 represenatatives of the American people, who had already decided they'd had enough guff from His Britannic Majesty and laid it on the line.

They laid it on the line with treason, because that's what the Hoverian monarch and virtually all Great Britain would have considered it had the "rabble in arms" serving under General Washington been defeated.

But that rag-tag army wasn't defeated. Washington and his forces survived defeats, Congressional shortsightedness and poor military leadership. A miserable remnant of the rebel army grimly endured the cold low tide at Valley Forge and came back to accept Cornwallis' surrender at Yorktown.

Some people think October 19, 1781, when Cornwallis' 7,000 men stacked their arms and American bands played "The World Turned Upside Down", should be considered the nation's birthday; or September 3, 1783 when the Treaty of Paris was signed; or even January 14, 1784 when that treaty was ratified by Congress in Philadelphia.

We still like July 4, 1776.

We like it because that's when those 56 men gathered to officially tell the world that treason in the face of tyranny is no longer treason. It is Revolution.

But is wasn't what is known today as a cheap shot. It was expensive.

Nine of the 56 took up arms, fought and died in the revolution they had declared. Five were captured and tortured to death by the British. Two had sons killed in that fight. Eleven saw their homes looted and/or destroyed. One of those even ordered his own home's destruction by rebel artillery because he had seen British officers inside. Three of those same eleven men died penniless. The wife of still another of the 56 was jailed. One was foreced to flee his home and his dying wife. His children was scattered and he returned to his empty home after the war only to die alone a few months later.

Revolution only comes with a terrible price tag. Those 56 men in Philadelphia paid that price but they knew before they signed what they were getting into. The message was there in the last line of the Declaration of Independence.

"And for the support of this Declaration, with a firm reliance on the protection of Divine Providence, we mutually pledge to each other our Lives, our Fortunes, and our sacred Honor."

Those men knew the stakes high. They also knew they were playing against a stacked deck; that England was considered the most powerful nation on earth.

Individually, the ante was literally death and destruction. It was a gamble 29 of those 56 men lost.

That's why we think July Fourth is the appropriate day to celebrate the birthday of the United States of America.

Those 29 lost their lives and fortunes. None of them lost their honor. And for that, we all won.

Ain't Freedom sweet?

Sports

They're two and oh now and going strong.

Under the guidance of Robert DeCampus, the Belle Glade Destroyers are bombarding the opposition and have two victories tucked in their back pockets. The 15-16 year old boys' baseball team is preparing for two and possibly three more games this weekend with their "season" finally starting. I have it from the coach himself - this team is good and they have been stunning the other teams with scores of 11-2 and 12-2, one game lasting only five innings. They played against one of the Pahokee teams last Friday evening and had another game scheduled for Sunday but the rains came and drowned any hopes for that one.

The Destroyers are getting more challengers now and are eager to play, but there is a problem with any games to be played at home (home being the Glades Central High School baseball field). Besides making sure their schedule doesn't coincide with the Flames, a semi-professional men's softball team who also uses the Glades Central field, the Destroyers have to provide umpires for any of their home games. Umpires are scarce, according to DeCampus, but he's hoping to find some interestered soul(s) wouldn't mind taking a couple of hours one weekend and umpiring one of their games.

How about it guys? Surely there are some baseball fans who know enough about baseball and would like to help the boys out by getting behind the plate for a game or two. Might even find it interesting enough to watch more of the team's games - I understand they already have quite a few interested spectators.

Anyway, best of luck to the Destroyers in their - maybe things will go so so well that there might be a couple or more teams next year.

"Support Women's Softball" was the theme at the softball tournament held in Naples this past weekend which I attended.

I don't know if there is a decline in softball nowadays, but you sure couldn't tell it by the number of fans at the tournament, which was held amid rain, darkness, mud and clay. Just like show business, the tournament must go on!

Wallis Pharmacy was the only local women's team to attend the tournament and we are getting a little better - at least we weren't the first team to be eliminated. We even managed to win a game and came in fifth in the standings (I won't say how many teams were participating.)

Due to the incessant rain, the weekend's scheduled was shot to pieces and there was a delay in just about every game. After we won our second game, we were supposed to play again at 10 p.m., but due to the wet conditions, we didn't even begin out game until after 12:30 in the morning. Talking about tired - we were like walking corpses out there! And to think about game was scheduled after ours, which ended about 2 a.m.

Sunday's games went pretty well until the semi-finals, and the weather began acting contrary again.

The two top teams continued playing despite the torrent of raindrops until one girl got up to bat and as she swung, the ball went one way and the bat sailed out of her hands, clean over the third baseman's head into left field! The fielders were so stunned all they could do was stand a gape. Then the shortstop recovered her wits, raced over the the bat and made as if to throw it to first base.

Out or safe ump? Needless to say, the officials hastily called the game and I understand the two teams had to go down to Marco Island that evening to finish the tournament - by that time I was on my way home.

Now that the local men's leagues are holding tournaments and the women are playing by ASA rules, maybe the Glades Women's League can get together and sponsor a tournament - it sure would be some kind of experience for those who haven't witnesseed or played in one.

Speaking of the tournament, I would like to straighten a misunderstanding.

Apparently, some people think I came down hard on the Jaycees concerning the barbecue which accompanied the tournament the Belle Glade Men's League held and I'm sorry to have given the impression. I think the Jaycees did a whale of a job in holding the barbecue and as I mentioned before, the chicken was great. I have heard since that four women were mainly responsible for the barbecue and they should be commended for their hard work in preparing the food, and I really didn't mean to offend any one person when I critizied the cole slaw, and if I did I am sincerely sorry.

I have never low-rated the Jaycees nor did I intend to begin to do so, because they have been involved in some worthy projects such as the Junior boys' football league which is sponsored every season, and I'm sure they will continue to help the community in the future.

With four women mainly running the show, the barbecue had to be a success and I did enjoy the chicken and the corn, and who knows, with all the bustling and hustling going on something could have been overlooked - it's happened to a lot of people before, myself included.

Open track meet to be held

The athletically inclined will have a chance to show off their prowess next week when the Belle Glade Recreational Department and the Palm Beach County Community Schools co-sponsor an open track meet beginning at 2 p.m. July 8 a Glades Central Raider Stadium.

"This will be for anyone, any age from 3 to 103, male or female, married or single and from Belle Glade, South Bay or Pahokee," Coach Jay Seider said. "We don't even care if they come over from the coast."

Seider said the track meet contestants will be divided into three basic age groups, with children up to 12 years old in one, teens from 13 through 19 in the second and over-19 in the third, as well as a division by sex.

Within those divisions, he said there will be divisions into two-year age groups.

Seider said ribbons will be presented to the winners coming in first, second, and third places in each events with major winners receiving medals.

He said this is the first time such a meet has been sponsored and whether there will be more depends on the participating of this one. He said he already has some 20 registrants, including two married couples.

"We'll start off with the younger kids at 2 p.m.," Seider said. He said they will participate in the 50, 100, 220, and 440 yard runs and the 440 yard relay, the softball throw and the long jump.

When the younger set is finished, the older age groups will begin competing in the 100, 220, 440 and 880 yard and the mile runs, the 440 and 880 relays, the shotput, the discus throw and the long jump.

Seider said each persons will be limited to participating in one event each.

Timesaver dominates play in women's softball last week

Michelle Jordan whacked out a triple and a double to help the Timesaver girls to two marginal victories as the team dominated action last week in the Glades Women's Softball League.

In their first match of the season last Tuesday, June 22, the Dudarettes led off with one run in the first inning when shortstop Sharon Humphrey hit a single and then scored on Cindy Smith's base hit. Timesaver tied it up in the bottom of the inning as Mary Lou Stevens crossed the plate on Jeannie Redd's hit into shortfield.

It was a close game, with Duda edging ahead by one run in the second inning by Linda Parsons, and Diane Duda knocked a triple in the third inning and went on home to make it three to one. Timesaver tied the score once more a few moments later when Kathy Hager and Michelle Jordan got two-baggers and rounded the bases.

The game became even more tense with both teams pushing in four run each in the fourth inning to make it a standoff, seven to seven. Cindy Gummere slammed a two-base hit into left field to knock in two of Duda's runs.

Timesaver took control after that and left a Dudarette runner stranded on second base when left fielder Celia Sullivan tucked in a fly for the third out, and with two down, Terry Thomas, Celia Sullivan and Mary Lou Stevens each crossed the plate for Timesaver, ending the game with a 10-7 score, Timesaver's first win of the season.

The second game of the evening found Glades Sugar handing Dixie Fried Chicken their first loss of the year, with shortfielder Peggy Chavis the leading hitter of the game.

It was a close match, with neither team scoring until the fifth inning, when the Glades Sugar players broke loose for four runs by Vickie Pate, Laura Dykes, Shelley Goodbread, and Wanda until the last out was made on a fielder's choice.

Irma Vasquez led off with a hart hit to the pitcher, who fumbled, and then scored the first of Dixie Fried Chicken's runs as Lelia Teyrouz rounded the bases for the second on Debbie Lord's single to pull within two runs.

It was short-lived, however, as Glades Sugar began swinging their way for three more runs, one of them a double by Peggy Chavis to take a 7-2 lead and they held the Dixie Fried Chicken girls to no score and a runner stranded on first for Glades Sugar's second victory of the season.

In Thursday night's action, Wallis Pharmacy won its first shutout of the year by blanking Dixie Fried Chicken 17-0. Sally Carter led the hitting with a homerun and a triple, as Karen H[illegible]sford, Barbara Mole [illegible]nd [illegible]nnie Pike each got multi-base hits.

Those who got hits for Dixie Fried Chicken were Lelie Teyrouz, Sandi Adams, Iram Vazquez, Maggie Moomey, Nora Teyrouz, and Debbie Lord.

The Timesaver girls celebrated their second win of the season by trouncing Glades Sugar 12-3, with shortfielder Michelle Jordan again the heavy hitter with a three-base hit in the first inning, knocking in Rachel Mills for two runs when Jordan crossed the plate on Jeannie's Redd's single.

Rose Goodbread rounded the bases for Glades Sugar in the bottom of the first inning for a two to one score, but Timesaver pushed another one across in the second to edge ahead and went wild in the next inning for three more when Michelle Jordan, Jeannie Redd and Mary Lou Stevens scored. Loretta Pugh added yet another run for Timesaver in the fourth and Michelle Jordan made it eight in the fifth inning.

Glades Sugar got rolling in the bottom of the fifth inning and knocked in two runs by Cynthia Simonds and Gail Exum before the shortstop fielded a line drive to end the threat.

After that, Glades Sugar was held to no more runs while Timesaver broke loose in the last inning and added four more for a final score of 12-3.

The standing as of June 24 were: Wallis Pharmacy, three wins and no losses; Glades Sugar, two wins and one loss; Timesaver, two wins and two losses; Dixie Fried Chicken, one win and two losses; Dudarettes, no wins and three losses.

Okeechobee fishing continues to be excellent

Fishing in the Belle Glade area continued good over the past week with nice catches of both bass and bluegills coming in according to Nan Corbin of Slim's Fish Camp.

The best bet for bass seems to be the Devil's horse, plastic worm or Dalton Special, with Beetle Spins proving best for bluegills.

On Thursday, W.W. Ward and his grandson of Fort Lauderdale brought in 13 bass weighing up to five pounds each, using plastic worms.

H. K. McIntosh, of Pahokee reported 12 bass on Thursday up to eight pounds.

Mr. and Mrs. Claude Herchenhahn, of West Palm Beach and Mr. and Mrs. Flint Graham of Hattiesburg, Miss. reported near limit catches of shellcrackers on Thursday using live bait.

William Campbell and Roger Harold of West Palm Beach caught nine bass ranging in size from two to seven pounds each on Saturday using Bangalure.

Brad Burgess of Plantation came in with three bass with the largest going 7½ pounds on Saturday using Gold Spoon with pork frog.

William Benway and his son, Mike of Fort Lauderdale reported 15 bass on Saturday and Sunday using plastic worms.

Local fisherman Richard Gill brought in an eight pound 12 ounce bass on Sunday using Devil's Horse.

Robert Barr and Tim Land of Hollywood brought in 60 specks on Sunday using live bait. Barr took his wife out on Sunday night and came in with 70 specks.

Danny Gressinger took Jimmy McMillan out in his new boat over the weekend and reported some nice catches of bluegills. The local teenagers reported 46 on Saturday and 30 on Monday using Beetle Spins. Danny is becoming quite a fisherman this summer

Rodeo helps the handicapped

KISSIMMEE--More than a good show, the non-profit Silver Spurs Rodeo July 2 3, and 4 helps provide for handicapped people of Osceola County and the necessities for some homeless youngsters. Profits from the rodeo sponsored by the Silver Spurs Club help charities, such as the Osceola Children's Home and the Osceola Opportunity Center for Retarded Adults, according to Kenyon Laughrey, Big Boss of the Spurs.

The 300-member organization of ranchers, farmers and townsfolk, formed in 1944 to bring the rodeo to this cattle-rich area, works year round to present two rodeos a year. Every member serves on a committee during each 3-day event.

The rodeo is able to make contributions to the two organizations because members serve without any pay and there is only one staff salaried person.

The rodeos also have paid for the $500,000 stadium with 12,000 reserved seats and 50 acres of parking between Kissimmee and St. Cloud, which give Osceola High School an unequalled football stadium and is also used for other events, including home games of the Osceola High School Kowboys. Scouts held their Cub Olympics there this past Spring, and the Florida High School Rodeo Association its Finals in mid-June.

Mr. and Mrs. Terry Wayne Woods

Tippery/Woods rites held in Belle Glade

Vickie Jean Tippery of 1600 Canal St. South in Belle Glade and Terry Wayne Woods of Dairy Road in Belle Glade were united in marriage in a double ring ceremony on May 22 at the First Baptist Church of Belle Glade with the Reverend Robert Atkins, officiating.

The bride, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Orville Tippery of Belle Glade, was given in marriage by her father. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Otis Woods of Belle Glade.

Oscar Monti of Belle Glade served as best man. The matron of honor was the bride's sister, Debbie Kelley, of South Bay.

Brenda Miller and Joyce Kelley, both of Belle Glade, were bridesmaids. Ushers were James Woods of Belle Glade, brother of the groom and Darrelle Kelley of South Bay, brother-in-law of the bride.

The church was decorated with four palms, two floral arrangements and three candelabras containing alternating yellow and blue candles accented by hanging pom poms and miniature mums.

Mrs. Helen Youngblood was the organist and soloist.

Mr. Jim Lewis sang "The Wedding Prayer" and "Never Walk Alone".

The bride's dress was an empire waist style of sheer polyester organza lined with acetate taffeta. The long, full transparent sleeves, gathered with lace two inches from the shoulder, featured snapclose cuffs. Her full length chapel train dress was highlighted by a two inch ruffle, a lace bodice and a neckline of pearls and lace appliques extending down the length of the dress. Her two tier nylon tulle veil, trimmed with lace and stimulated pearls, had a camelot style head piece and a bow in the back.

The bride carried a colonial bouquet of miniature yellow carnations, blue pom poms and baby's breath arranged with blue and yellow bows and streamers As she walked up the aisle, the bride gave her mother one red rose from her bouquet and gave her mother-in-law one red rose as she returned down the aisle.

The matron of honor wore a blue dotted swiss dress with an empire waist, short bell sleeves and a five inch ruffle at the bottom. Blue satin ribbons were attached to the front of the dress and to her white flop hat. She wore white wrist gloves and carried one yellow mum with blue baby's breath and blue and yellow steamers. The bridesmaids carried bouquets and wore dresses identical to those of the matron of honor, except their dresses and ribbons were yellow.

Mary Barnwell and Faye Woods assisted in the reception held in the church fellowship hall after the wedding. Kathy Hart kept the bride's book.

A three tier white cake featured blue and yellow decorations with miniature wedding bells in between layers and a miniature bride and groom on top.

The bride's mother wore a lime green floor length gown with a white lace bodice. The groom's mother wore a pink floor length gown with a white pearl belt. Both mothers wore spring flower corsages.

Out of town guests from Texas, Clewiston, South Bay and Georgia attended the wedding.

The bride wore a rose colored pantsuit with patchwork front and back yokes and pockets, as well as a spring corsage, on their honeymoon trip to Disney World and Sea World.

The couple's new residence is 1608 S.E. Ave. G, Lot 25.

The bride, born in Iowa, is a 1975 graduate of Glades Central High School. Presently, she is employed at Rhodes and Shiver, CPA's, in Belle Glade. The groom is employed at A. Duda and Sons, Inc., Belle Glade.

Social Chatter

By Maude Vereen

The Young People was in charge of services Sunday at the Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church.

They invited Mrs. Frances Powell to bring to us "The Devil Funeral". After her message she asked everyone to march by and get a view of the Devil. A though she left with everyone was, when you look into a mirror, take a good look and ask youself, "Am I the Devil?"

Rev. Jimmy Thomas of Bryant brought the morning message, "A check that needs to be cashed". He used a parable of a man needing a job so that he could feed his family and pay his bills, but after receiving the job, didn't understand the slips of paper that was given to him so he placed them in a dresser drawer until he was locked out of his house, got weak on the job, late getting to work and the foreman was concerned and asked him what was wrong. He related he needed some money but he said, "What have you been doing with the slips of paper that I have given you?" and he told him. The foreman said, "You have what you need but you have checks that need to be cashed."

Some have checks of hate, needing to be cashed for love, etc. Jesus is ready to cash your every check wither you are old, young, rich or poor. He doesn't care what you condition is if you will just accept Him. His message was taken from St. Luke 18:18.

Rev. Thomas also invited you to attend their revival this week at Bryant. The Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church pastor, the Rev. Charles Robinson, will bring the message each night.

The Elite Community Club members met Sunday at the home of the president, Mrs. Estella Pyfrom in a called meeting, the last one for the summer. The club officers are Estella Pyfrom, president; Mary Freeman, corresponding secretary; Betty Morris, vice president; Hester Harris, historian; Ruby Rutledge, treasurer; Josephine Harris, chaplain; Shirley Jones, recording secretary; Maude Vereen, publicity chairman and Eva Reese, parliamentarian.

Mrs. Herma Miller gave a report from the sub-debs which the club accepted. Mrs. Morris and Mrs. Freeman brought their report from the state club convention which was held in Jacksonville. The Elite Club scrapbook won first place and we won other ribbons and the founder of this club, Mrs. Louise Taylor was elected historian of past presidents.

Mrs. Vereen, chairwoman of the Jr. Miss Program, gave a report and divided club sisters into five groups for the year.

At the end of the club meeting, the club sisters gave the president a surprise baby shower. She is expecting her baby very soon. Also, she was presented a beautiful silver charm bracelet from the club for her service.

Mrs. Corene Chent just returned from Madison, where she attended the funeral services of her brother-in-law, Willie Ghent.

Mrs. Mercedes M. Robinson, assistant superintendent of the West Area Palm Beach County School System, left the city June 19 on a flight to Cleveland, O. to visit her sister. On June 27, she flew to Chicago, Ill. to visit other friends.

In a telephone conversation with Mrs. E. T. Robinson, Mrs. Robinson said she was having a wonderful time and getting some much needed rest. She will soon return to the city and back to the busy job after her vacation period ends.

You are invited to attend the South Florida African Methodist Missionary Service to be held at the Mt. Zion A.M.E. Church in Belle Glade on Saturday, July 3. Rev. Charles Robinson, Pastor and Mrs. Williams, president.

Mrs. Eudell Thomas is confined to room 105 at Glades General Hospital. Why not cheer her up.

Mrs. Ireme Salmon is still confined at home. Remember her.

The clerks at the Belle Glade Police Department welcome Mrs. Mary York back from her vacation.

Talk to you next week. Why not share your vacation with the readers?

Remember: Watch out for the other driver. Drive carefully and get to your destination safely. Just remember that haste makes waste and don't let it be "you".

City Council meeting held

Mrs. Judy Schiele hosted a meeting June 23 of the social committee for the 1976-77 City Council Year to draw up the calendar.

Each chapter in the council had representatives and most of the chapter presidents in attendance.

An Oct. 9 date was discussed for the year's one mixed social with all City Council members to be invited.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served to Nancy Shackelford, Ren Shutts, Bobbie Wilson, Dee Lutz, Connie Foster, and City Council President Aritha Keene.

Lamb graduates magna cum laude

Alice Esta Lamb of 309 N.W. Ave E, Belle Glade, was one of 134 students who graduated with honors from Mercer University. Among 461 degrees conferred at commencement exercises, Alice received her Bachelor of Arts degree cum laude.

Candidates for bachelor's degrees who make an average of 3.75 receive their degrees summa cum laude; those with an average of 3.50 are graduated magna cum laude, and those whose average is 3.25 receive their degrees cum laude.

ATTENDING THE MEETING IN JACKSONVILLE WERE [STANDING] ...Mrs. Lucille Williams, Mrs. Betty Morris, Mrs. Mary Freeman, Mrs. Mary Dunkley, Mrs. Ida Mizell, Mrs. W.M. White and Mrs. Gladys Tucker. Seated are Mrs. W.C. Taylor and Mrs. Fannie Harrell. Not shown are Mrs. D. McCurdy, Mrs. Nina Singleton and Mrs. E. Conyers.

Local women attend meeting

Women representing several Belle Glade clubs attended the 68th Annual Florida Association of Women and Girls Clubs at the Robert Meyer Hotel in Jacksonville recently.

Mrs. Irma Allen of Fort Lauderdale, who was elected as president of the organization in 1972, when the City Association, under the presidency of Mrs. W. M. White of Belle Glade, entertained the state annual meeting here in Belle Glade at the Holiday Inn.

During this time, Mrs. White was elected as public relationist and served for four years.

The theme for this year's annual meeting was "Our Nation, A Fulfilling Challenge to the Black Women".

The highlight of the convention was Monday evening when the president adressed hereself to the theme. She related the role of the black woman in building this country up to the Bicentennial celebration this year.

Mrs. W. M. White presided at the press breakfast. She challenged the ladies in her remarks to further dedicate themselves to their club motto, "Lifting As We Climb".

Mrs. Betty Morris of Belle Glade, who represented the Elite Community Club, served on the election committee. Mrs. W. C. Taylor was on the nominating committee.

The newly elected president was Mrs. Louise Johnson of Bradenton.

Mrs. I. Allen terminated four years as service with one hundred clubs and 1,022 women. This year's project was to raise $1,660 for the African Hunger Fund.

Among the many presidents serving in the organization over the years have been the late Dr. Mary McCleod Bethune, who was a founding member.

Past presidents attending the meeting included Mrs. W. C. Taylor Sr. of Belle Glade, Mrs. Alice E. Moore, Mrs. Alice Mickens of West Palm Beach and Mrs. Algernon Bolen of Fort Pierce.

Mrs. Taylor was given a plaque from the Young Women's Department. Mrs. W. M. White was given a citation for "outstanding service" by the president. The Elite Club received first place in scrapbooks.

More than 9,000 pounds of aluminum picked up for recycling last month

BELLE GLADE-Volume totals for the last month show 9,473 pounds of aluminum recycled by Belle Glade's residents, and Reynolds Aluminum Recycling Co. paid them $1,420.95.

Reynolds pays .15 a pound for the aluminum every Thursday in July from 11 AM to 1 PM at City Park, 500 W. Canal St.

Recyclable aluminum includes such items as cans; pie plates; foil; frozen food and dinner trays; dip, pudding and meat containers. Certain other items, including aluminum siding, gutters, aluminum storm door and window frames, and lawn furniture tubing are also worth .15 a pound when properly prepared.

This aluminum must be free from all foreign materials, cut to lengths not exceeding three feet and should not be mixed with aluminum cans.

"Until Labor Day, September 6, the public has the option to donate their proceeds from aluminum recycling to a very worthy cause, Muscular Dystrophy. If you choose to participate at your recycling location, Reynolds will make out a check to MDA for your donation, and give you a receipt," according to John Snellen, Reynolds District Manager for aluminum recycling.

Six local students make FSU Dean's List for spring quarter

Six students from Belle Glade earned recognition at Florida State University by making the Dean's List for the spring quarter. William Brancati, of 100 S.E. 7th St. N., Jackie Bridges of 501 S.E. 3rd St., Kathy Bridges of 561 S.E. 3rd St., Suzann Eggleston of 1408 N.W. Ave. B, Timothy Prescott of 101 S.E. 4th St. N and Horace Draa of 101 N.W. Ave. E were included on the list of approximately 3,011 F.S.U. students.

The Dean's List is an honor roll of students whose grade averages are "B" or "A" for all courses taken during the quarter.

Prescott selected

Ralph Prescott, CLU, former Belle Glade resident and district manager for Life Insurance Company of Georgia in Marietta, Ga., has been elected president of the 5,000 - member Georgia State Association of Life Underwriters.

Prescott served the Georgia association, eighth largest in the U.S., as first vice president, second vice president, third vice president, and regional vice president before his election to the top post. He is also a past president of the DeKalb County (Ga.) association.

A 20-year Life of Georgia veteran, Mr. Prescott began his career in the company's Pahokee, district, serving policyholders in the Glades area. He was later promoted to staff manager in Coral Gables, Fla., and in 1966 was advanced to training assistant.

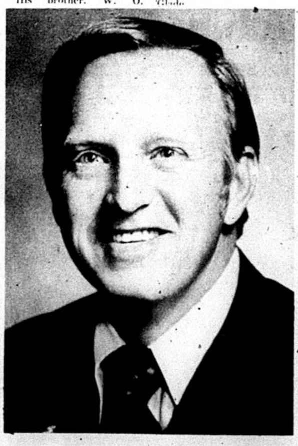

In this capacity he traveled throughout, the company's 11 southeastern state area assisting in the supervision of middle management training activities. In January, 1967, he was promoted to manager of Life of Georgia's southeast Atlanta district. He was named district manager in Marietta in 1974.

During his career he has qualified 16 times for membership in the company's top sales and service honor organizations. He earned the designation of Chartered Life Underwriter in 1970.

Prescott is a member of the Atlanta Estate Planning Council and the Atlanta Chapter of the American Society of Chartered Life Underwriters. He is a Mason, a Shriner, and a member of the United Methodist Church.

A graduate of Belle Glade High School, Prescott is married to the former Carol VanLandingham, also a former Belle Glade resident. They have a son and two daughters, and reside in Marietta.

His brother, W. O. Prescott, resides in Belle Glade.

Locals graduate at U of F

Achievements were made at the University of Florida last term by two local students. Claudia Leigh Shirley received a Bachelor of Science degree in Physical Education and Miriam Alvarez earned straight A's for the spring quarter, placing her on the President's Honor Roll.

Of the university's 19,582 spring quarter undergraduate students, 840 earned straight A's while 2,903 degrees were awarded this month.

Church to hold special service

The Community United Methodist Church of Lake Harbor will conduct a Bicentennial service on Sunday, July 4, beginning at 11:00 a.m. in the park at Lake Harbor off Highway #27.

Ray Brown, pastor, said picnic lunches and colonial or patriotic dress would be appropriate.

The public is invited to attend, as there will be special music and singing.

DATELINE HISTORY

by Jerome Turk & Wm. D. Ellis

PHILADELPHIA, June 26, 1776 – A great debate is in the making July 1 in the Congress when the issue of independence from England will be aired. But with the possible exceptions of Maryland & New York, delegates of all 13 colonies will approve the independence resolution introduced by Virginia.

Individual delegates may not favor independence, but most will be outvoted or outmaneuvered by others in the colonial delegations. Among those opposed: John Dickinson, Robert Morris & James Wilson of Pennsylvania, Robert R. Livingston of New York, Edward Rutledge of South Carolina.

A Declaration of Independence document, now in preparation at the hand of Thomas Jefferson of Virginia, will not come to the floor until after the vote, if affirmative, on independence itself.

Jefferson is now putting finishing touches on the document which will probably be ready for the Congress in two days. Although other members of the drafting committee such as the prestigious Dr. Benjamin Franklin have made few changes so far, it is said that grammarians will have to edit Mr. Jefferson's work before it leaves Congress.

The young man from Monticello consistently spells the possessive pronoun "its" with an apostrophe: "it's." Seems to be a fault among many Americans.

A plot of New York Tories to assassinate Gen'l. George Washington was smashed five days ago. The plan reportedly involves the mayor of New York City, David Matthews, as well as three members of General Washington's own life guards.

Although the General has taken pains to keep the plot quiet to prevent reprisals on other Loyalists in New York, a private letter gives this account of the event of June 21:

"At evening the Mayor of New York was taken up & a number of the Citizens with three of General Washington's Life Guard & some other belonging to different regiments. It is reported to the amount of 40 now taken. Some are now in irons, others confined in the State House; the Mayor is confined in a Publick House by the State House."

"By a strange reverse of Fortune we are driven to the sad necessity of abondoning Canada," wrote Brig. Gen'l. John Sullivan from Isle aux Noix, an island on the northern tip of Lake Chaplain, a week ago. Sullivan has taken command of the American invasion force, now in full retreat, from Maj. Gen. John Thomas, who died May 28 of the pox.

"The Small Pox! The Small Pox! What shall we do with it?" wrote John Adams of Massachusetts to his wife, Abigail, tonight. "Our misfortunes in Canada are enough to melt an Heart of Stone. The Small Pox is ten times more terrible than Britons, Canadians & Indians together. This was the Cause of our precipitate Retreat from Quebec..."

FARM FRONT

by Doyle Conner, Commissioner

It may not work in commercial farming, but in experimental work it has been found that production is increased when soybeans are planted between rows of corn. It seems the nitrogen-fixing soybean helps feed the corn, which likes a lot of nitrogen.

Interplanting of different types of plants is practiced in many parts of the world, differing from our farming methods called monoculture. Organic Gardening & Farming Magazine reports interplanting is customary in Colombia, Brazil, China and other parts of the world.

It also was employed by early American Indians.

In an experiment on the OG&F farm, scientists tested interplanting of corn and soybeans and some other types of plants. Trials showed that production was 144 per cent of the total yield of the monocropped control plots. Both crops thrived in close-packed rows. It was first expected the taller corn would shade out the low-growing soybeans, but that didn't happen.

The close-growing corn and soybeans also shaded out any weeds that might have come up and very little tillage was required. The beans were hindered somewhat by the close spacing and could not get as much sun as the taller corn plants. But since the beans were occupying space that would have grown up in weeds, the soybean crop was a bonus.

In other research, corn and lima beans have grown well together. Lettuce interplanted with rows of kidney beans grows very well, another trial showed. The beans shaded the young lettuce plants at a time when they needed protection from the sun. Also the lettuce matured and was harvested before the beans got too big to create problems with too much shade. Soybeans did better than normal when planted with beets and tomatoes. Further tests are planned on other types of plants. And more research is going on into the nitrogen-fixation powers of legumes to help cut down on the use of chemical nitrogen fertilizers.

Interplanting of farm crops may have a promising future if the work is successful. If it does, it may require development of new types of farm equipment to seed and harvest the closely-spaced rows and to separate the two types of plants, but this is not insurmountable.

GOLD COAST GARDENER

by Gene Joyner
Urban Horticulturist
Palm Beach County

It is time for the general fertilizing of your landscape now if you forgot to do it last month. With our recent rainfall much of the fertilizer that you applied in the early spring months was leached out and so it is necessary to replace this. Make sure that you buy good quality fertilizer from a reputable dealer and that the fertilizer contains all of the secondary or trace elements. Beware of bargain fertilizers since many times these do not contain all of the plant foods and if used exclusively for a long period of time serious nutritional deficiencies may occur.

For your lawns apply 20 pounds of a complete 6-6-6 fertilizer or equivalent per 1000 square feet.

For hedges and flowering plants one and one-quarter pounds of 6-6-6 per 1000 square feet may be used.

Acid loving shrubs such as gardenias and ixora may be fertilized with a gardenia or ixora fertilizer commonly available from garden supply stores, or you may also use one and a half pounds of a complete 6-6-6 fertilizer per 1000 square feet.

Bulbs and annuals can be fertilized with one and a half pounds of a 4-8-8 fertilizer per 100 square feet.

Fruit trees, if not already fertilized, should be given a 4-8-8, 4-6-8, or 6-6-6 fertilizer. The manufacturer usually will give a rate of application on the bag. If not you may use one pound per application per inch of diameter of the trunk.

For palms you may use a regular palm fertilizer available from most garden supply stores or you may use 3 to 12 pounds of a 6-6-6 fertilizer. A general rule of thumb for application on palms is one pound per foot of clear trunk.

Individual specimen plants may be fertilized by either the spike or broadcast method.

SUGAR

World sugar output in 1975-76 is now forecase at a record 81.3 million tons, compared with 78.2 million tons a year earlier. USDA reports. The new estimate is 700,000 tons under the department's March estimates of 82.0 million tons, due to downward adjustments in estimates for Brazil and the Soviet Union. Estimated global sugar consumption during 1975-76 is 80.8 million tons, one-half million tons below production. World sugar production of 32.2 million tons in 1975-76 accounted for most of the increase over the year before and world cane sugar output of 49.1 million tons was 60% of total world output in 1975-76. Thus with private sources also in agreement that world production will exceed consumption and carryover stocks will build the bull argument loses its strength. We continue to view the market in a broad trading range and have no recommendations at present.

ORANGE JUICE

The market has continued under pressure of uncertainty attendant upon the extend of the understatement of FCOJ inventories. If it is determined that the upward adjustment of stocks is near the lower end of the estimated range (at 2 million gallons;, futures may recover somewhat from recent levels. On the other hand, a determination near the upper limit of the range (at 5 million gallons) would tend to confirm the validity of recent sharp price declines.

Bearish influences also include the USDA June estimates of 1975-76 Florida orange production, which could result in a total net Florida pack of FCOJ of approximately 181,900,000 gallons vs. 178,174,349 gallons on the previous season; and another lack-luster movement figure for the week ended June 5 of 2,320,636 gallons as contrasted to 3,468,301 gallons in the comparable year-ago week.

The market could respons positively to a definitive clarification of the extent of the understatement of processors' stocks. This week's cut n the "Card" price per dozen 6-oz cans of FCOJ to $2.00 failed to stimulate prices. We would continue to stand aside.

WHEAT

The wheat fundamentals improved a bit last week as the U.S. winter wheat crop was placed at 1.416 billion bushels, compared to 1.459 indicated in May and final outturn of 1.651 in 1975. The USDA estimated the total West European grain crop for 1976 at 137 million tons, down five million from the April forecast. Additionally, the USDA indicated that 1976 USSR grain production could total about 185 million tons with winter production 45-50 million tons. Secretary Bell estimated Soviet grain import needs in 1976-77 at 15 to 20 million tons compared to 10-15 million tons previously. The USSR crop goal had been 205 million tons and Secretary Bell indicated that attainment of a 185 million ton crop would require ideal crop conditions fron now to harvest.

Bicycle marathon scheduled at Apostolic Church

A new bicycle will be the prize for a bicycle marathon race scheduled to be held July 10 as a part of Operation Youth at the Apostolic Church of Jesus Christ, located at 1316 West Canal St. South in Belle Glade.

The race will be followed at 6 p.m. that same day by a community gospel sing at the church and in the meantime, a basic guitar course is being taught on Tuesdays from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m. and a basic art course is being taught during the same hours on Wednesdays.

The art and guitar courses are being offered to both children and adults during the summer according to the Rev. J. P. Feld, Operations Manager at the church.

Rev. Feld said Operation Youth is being offered Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday at the church, from 10 a.m. to 3 p.m., and he invited the community at large to attend and take part. He advised the participants to bring "paper sack" lunches.

This program is co-sponsored by the Palm Beach County Health Department and the Palm Beach County Ophthalmological Society.

TWO MINUTES WITH THE BIBLE

BY CORNELIUS R. STAM, PRES.
BEREAN BIBLE SOCIETY
CHICAGO, ILLINOIS 60635

"HE SHALL PRAY FOR THEE"

Abimelech, king of Gerar, had taken Abraham's wife as his own, but had done so innocently.

Sarah was a beautiful woman and Abraham, fearful for his life, had said to Abimelech: "She is my sister." Indeed, Sarah, also fearful, had vouched for Abraham's lie, telling the king: "He is my brother."

But to save the failing couple from the consequences of their own cowardice and sin, God had appeared to Abimelech, warning him that if he valued his life he would immediately return Sarah to her husband—"and he shall pray for thee, and thou shalt live" (Gen. 20:7).

Can this be a correct account of what actually took place? Will God hear the prayers of guilty Abraham for innocent Abimelech? Yes, for Abimelech was a pagan who served other gods, while Abraham, with all his failure and sin, was God's own child.

Abraham's prayer would, of course, be a confession of his sin and a plea that it might not be laid to the charge of innocent Abimelech, but nevertheless it was Abraham, not Abimelech, who had access to God.

This is an important lesson to learn, for many unsaved people point to the failures of believers and say: "I wouldn't be guilty of that. If he goes to heaven, I certainly will get there." Nevertheless, such "good" people are lost, while poor sinners who have trusted Christ for salvation are saved and "made accepted in the Beloved One" (Eph. 1:6).

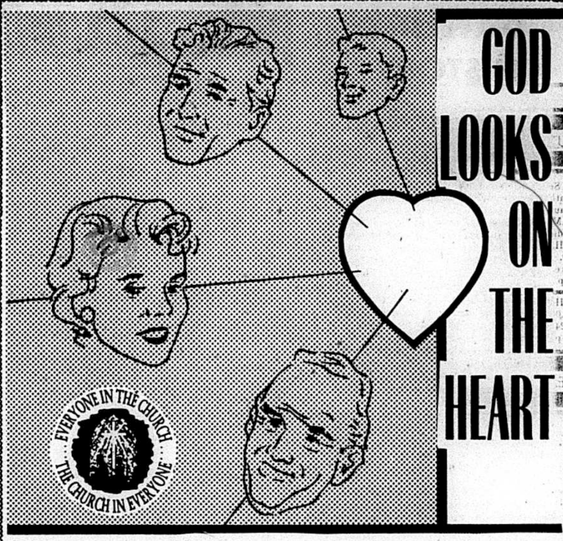

There is only one way to find acceptance with God; this is by faith in His Son. Our Lord said: "I am the way, the truth, and the life; no man cometh unto the Father but by Me" (John 14:6), and in John 3:35,36 we read:

"The Father loveth the Son and hath given all things into His hands. He that believeth on the Son hath everlasting life: He that believeth not the Son shall not see life, but the wrath of God abideth on Him."

"Believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and thou shalt be saved" (Acts 16:31).

Batteries create power by providing the conditions for a chemical reaction. A current flows when chemical energy is converted to electrical energy.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family. Beyond that, however, every person should uphold and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

Man's first reactions to another is based on outward appearances, and only time will help him to know the heart of another. God knows, immediately, every attitude of the heart, whether it is good or bad.

"Blessed are the pure in heart: for they shall see God."

There are many rewards for those that follow the Lord. "Let the heart of them rejoice that seek the Lord."

In appreciation of the sponsorship of this page, we would urge all church-going people to patronize the firms listed below.
